Dear Potential Partner:

The Texas Association of Community Development Corporations is the leading trade association for CDCs, CDFIs, and affordable housing providers in Texas. We continually strive to meet the needs of our 130+ members by providing crucial resources, new research, access to trainings, and by facilitating connections at our two annual events. Our goal is to strengthen and to build the capacity of the community development industry in Texas.

After the success of our partner event last year, TACDC will again be holding the Texas Community Economic Development Summit virtually as part of Resilient Communities | The National Forum. We are joining forces with the National Alliance of Community Economic Development Associations and other peer associations from across the country to bring you collaborative plenary sessions and national level speakers, as well as Texas specific workshops. The forum will begin with two days of collaborative content from October 4-5, followed by three days of Texas focused programming from October 6-8.

Last year, this partnership convened over 2,100 participants from round the nation, including 151 from Texas, representing 96 organizations throughout our state. The feedback we received indicated that attendees were highly satisfied with the overall flow of the event, the access to national content and the convenience of “just logging on”.

We invite you to join us in helping all Texas communities thrive by sponsoring our 2021 Texas Community Economic Development Policy Summit. Sponsorship levels range from $1,000- $7,500 .

Your sponsorship not only helps TACDC continue providing this valuable event at a reasonable registration rate, but connects you to a broad Texas network of Affordable housing providers, banks, public agencies, foundations, social service agencies and other organizations. This year it will also raise your national profile.

We hope you will join us! Please reach out to me or Robyn Murphy (robyn@tacdc.org) with any questions.
